

Sherelle Appleby

Pupil-Barrister

 Birmingham

Sherelle.Appleby@brownejacobson.com

+44 (0)330 045 2908

Sherelle was called to the Bar in 2019 and immediately joined Browne Jacobson LLP as an Assistant Advocate. Sherelle is our current Pupil Barrister based in the Birmingham office and is instructed by several of the firm's key clients to attend professional discipline proceedings, handling multiple day complex cases as well as Education Tribunals, various civil hearings.

Prior to joining Browne Jacobson Sherelle worked closely with vulnerable witnesses through her employment as with a Family Law firm within the domestic violence department. She attended County and Magistrates Courts across the South-Eastern Circuit obtaining non-molestation orders on behalf of domestic violence victims.

Sherelle is an advocate for social mobility and is an active member of our BJReach community. She is passionate about increasing access to the Bar in England and Wales and has mentored many students from minority ethnic backgrounds. Her article for LawCareers.net on her Journey to the Bar can be found here.

'The Problem Is...' podcast which reflects on the need to bring your whole self to the workplace.

Expertise

Academy trusts and schools

Central government

Higher education institutions and universities

Independent health and care

Insurance

Local government

NHS acute trusts

NHS mental and community health trusts

Social care

Testimonials

"The decision has pleasingly gone our way. A really brilliant decision and I am so pleased at the outcome in this case. Thanks for all your work in securing it."

Anon,

"We have had a brilliant decision in on this one, given the witness position. Well done! I'm really pleased with this outcome and am sure the School will be too. Thanks so much for all your work on this case."

Anon,