

Social Mobility Incubator webinar: Collecting qualitative data

📍 Webinar

📅 16 September 2025

Browne Jacobson, proudly ranked joint number one employer in the Social Mobility Index 2024, invites you to a year-long event series designed to help you develop and implement an effective social mobility strategy.

When we think of data, numbers often come to mind. However, qualitative data can provide even deeper insights into how your employees feel and think about social mobility within your organisation. In this session, we will share our approach to collecting and using qualitative data related to social mobility, as well as the actions we're taking to implement the findings.

Who should attend?

This webinar is free to attend and open to anyone involved in driving social mobility within their organisation. It's particularly beneficial for organisations just beginning to shape their social mobility strategy, but offer valuable tips and insights for those at any stage of the journey. The session is tailored for organisations of all sizes across both the private and public sectors.

We look forward to supporting you on your social mobility journey.
