

Judith Stone

Senior Associate

Birmingham

judith.stone@brownejacobson.com

+44 (0)330 045 2273

Judith specialises in advising clients on all aspects of contentious construction matters whether that is advisory or pre- and post-completion disputes. Judith has acted as a trusted advisor to a range of clients including large corporates, main contractors and local authorities and helps guide clients through the litigation process and other bespoke dispute resolution forums such as adjudication and mediation.

Judith has seen an array of disputes arising for different reasons and is adept at handling client's concerns from the outset and throughout the whole cycle of a potential dispute.

Expertise

Services

Construction and engineering services

Featured experience

Insurer clients

Advice to insurer clients in relation to multi-million pound Third Parties (Rights against Insurers) Act 2010 claims.

Contractor client

Advising a contractor client in relation to allegedly negligent engineering advice for the extension of a major hospital.

Two local authorities

Advising two local authorities on a £200m energy from waste dispute, which related to the termination and valuation of the building contract.